central coop

Every life is unique and every goodbye
can be too

Our tributes come in an array of colours and you can choose stems and shades that are right for you and for the person being celebrated. Let us know what you like and we'll do all we can to create something magical.

We specialise in making extraordinary tributes, as well as honouring traditional designs. Almost anything is possible.

A stunning send-off

Flowers make a lovely centrepiece at a funeral, and by choosing their favourite blooms and colours, it's a tribute that shares the life, the loves and the story of the person whose life you're celebrating.

We can create almost anything you'd like us to and within your budget. Ask us about our Florist's Choice option if you're looking to keep costs lower. Whether you see something you like in this brochure, or if you'd like something that's tailor-made by our talented florists, we can make this happen.

Every arrangement is hand-made with the freshest flowers of the season and is as unique as your special person.

Sympathy cards

Knowing what to write in a sympathy card can be difficult, and it'll depend on your relationship with the person who's died, and their immediate family. If you knew them, but not their surviving partner or family, it's helpful to write how you knew them and share something about what they meant to you. It's also a lovely way to let those who are grieving know that you're there for them.

You can start with a simple message of condolence such as:

- I/we are so sorry for your loss
- Our thoughts are with you
- Our condolences to you
- I was so sorry to hear of the passing of

It's also nice to write a message to show what the person who's died meant to you, such as:

- Elizabeth was one of the kindest, most caring people we knew, and always went out of her way to help friends and neighbours.
- Your mum was one of my dearest friends, we shared many memories together over the years which I will treasure forever.
